Dedication

To the people of the State who are maintaining our Institution, and are working toward a greater State College of Washington, this book is dedicated.

Foreword

TO PLACE before the present and former students, memories of days spent at their Alma Mater; to place before future students an account of the true life and purpose of the school which will some day be their Alma Mater; to paint in words and pictures the activities and accomplishments of the State College of Washington during the past year in the molding of character and citizenship which will be a constructive force throughout the State and the entire Nation: These have been the objects of the Chinook of 1923.

REGENT FRED S. STIMSON

Regent Fred S. Stimson of the State College of Washington, died most unexpectedly on Thanksgiving morning, November 24, 1921. The appointment of Mr. Stimson as a member of the Board of Regents less than a year ago, met with the enthusiastic approval of the entire Northwest. Regent Stimson was recognized as one of the best informed men in America, a man broadly interested in all phases of industrial progress.

The death of Fred S. Stimson takes from the State of Washington a most useful citizen and unselfish leader. Through his death the State College of Washington has lost a devoted and valuable friend. We know, however, that his spirit of unselfish devotion will continue to inspire the faculty, students and alumni of the State College of Washington for many years to come.

FREDERICK E. VAN DEWATER '25

Although Frederick Van Dewater had attended the State College only a very short time, his winning smile and pleasing personality won for him many friends who mourn his passing.

SENATOR R. C. M'CROSKEY

SENATOR R. C. McCROSKEY, Regent of the State College of Washington for the past eighteen years, died at his home in Garfield, Washington, on Monday afternoon, April 10, 1922. The State College of Washington has suffered a great loss in his death. It has been said that, with few exceptions, every great educational institution of America has been established and developed through the devoted and intelligent service of a few men who, like Senator McCroskey, have allowed no personal sacrifice to stand in the way of the great service they sought to render.

At all times Regent McCroskey unreservedly gave to the State College of his time and thought. This has been his greatest service and has required on his part devoted courage and many sacrifices. Also he gave, in the fall of 1921, several thousand dollars for the R. C. McCroskey permanent fellowship fund, the interest on which is to be awarded each year to some State College graduate of superior ability who desires to undertake important scientific investigations. Regent McCroskey has also given generously to the Student Loan Fund, to help worthy young men and women continue their education.

In many ways the State College of Washington stands today as a monument to the useful and splendid life of Regent R. C. McCroskey.

ADMINISTRATION

SOME people believed that with the signing of the Armistice by the German military representatives on November 11, 1918, democracy had triumphed forever. This was reflected in the speech of men and women in all parts of America; it was to be found in the newspaper headlines and editorials. For a while many people were deceived by this conclusion, and really believed that the battles of democracy were over.

During this great World War eighty-five per cent of the officers in the American Army were college men. The great majority of these men did splendidly; a few, as one would expect, failed miserably. But the military leaders of America believed that the average college man is worthy of trust and is able to adapt himself to new and difficult conditions. In a word, it was a tribute on the one side to the man who believes enough in himself to want to get the best of training; and on the other a tribute to the worth of a college education.

What has been said concerning the college men and their leadership in the world is applicable to women who are enrolled in the colleges and universities of the country. They, too, represent much of the best leadership among the women of America.

The reconstruction period following the Civil War was a most difficult one. Economic conditions were bad and did not improve for many years following Lee's surrender at Appomattox. But, the poor economic conditions lasting from 1865 to to 1885 were not in themselves the most serious aspects of the situation. The great tragedy lay in the fact that the ideals, so much in evidence during the Civil War, were not maintained during the years of peace that followed. As a result there was a moral and ethical slump in the American Government and among the American people.

Another reconstruction period, world-wide in extent, is before us. First of all, we need morale, the courage to meet with fortitude and good sense the problems our own country, and the world, are now facing. Secondly, we need more educated men and women who will be able to look below superficial evidences and understand the real needs of our people and our democracy. The hope of the American Government rests very largely upon the college men and women who are eager to do their part in raising and maintaining the ethical and governmental ideals and who have the capacity to understand what is best to be done in these difficult times when democracy's battles must be won again.

E. O. HOLLAND, President.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Dear Alumni and Former Students:

More and more college people are coming to realize that for the welfare of their Alma Mater it is of fundamental importance that they keep in touch with its activities. It is axiomatic that this should be so, for if those who have been intimately associated with the college are not interested in its growth and development, it is hardly to be expected that those who have never been within its walls will concern themselves with its problems. Particularly is this true for state institutions in these times of unusual financial depression.

Every year the State College of Washington sends out into the world a large number of graduates, and every year at least twice that number leave the college, for some good and sufficient reason, never to affiliate with another institution. It is safe to assume that over 75 per cent of these former students are loyal "cougars" to the same extent as the graduates, in that their interest and loyalty is centered in the one college they have attended. Many of the most loyal and enthusiastic workers the State College of Washington has in the different communities of the state are those who from the force of circumstances were never privileged to receive a degree.

Upon the devotion and loyalty of the alumni and former students the College must at all times depend. This is a state institution, but there are many of those who love it. They feel and know that they are a part of it, and that it in turn is a part of them. They are reflecting in their lives the ideals that they received while in its atmosphere. Should danger threaten the College they would unhesitatingly hasten to its support.

Today there may be no danger, yet tomorrow it may come like a thunderbolt from a clear sky and a permanent injury be effected before the loyal forces of the College could be rallied to its support. Realizing this fact, alumni and former students are more and more inclined to keep in touch with the activities of the College, know its progress and its problems. The importance of this awakening cannot be over-emphasized.

Cordially yours,

HARRY M. CHAMBERS,

Alumni Secretary.

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

WILSON HALL

The College of Agriculture is composed of ten departments and furnishes full four-year collegiate courses in the following groups:

Farm Crops; Soils;

Animal Husbandry; Dairy Husbandry; Poultry Husbandry;

Horticulture; Landscape Gardening; Plant Pathology;

Forestry; Range Management;

Agricultural Journalism; Farm Management and Farm Business;

Agricultural Engineering.

Short courses in agriculture, eight weeks in length, are offered each year beginning after the holidays. Two and four weeks' courses in gas engines and tractors and two weeks' courses for creamery men also are given at this time.

NO. 1—The experimental lots in the lamb feeding experiments, conducted at the Irrigation Branch Station at Prosser, 1921.

NO. 2—Feeding 1,650 in a feeding experiment at the Irrigation Branch Experiment Station at Prosser, Washington, 1922. General view of feed lots and some Station Buildings.

NO. 3—Making Better Wheats. Experimenting with varieties of wheats in the cereal Nursery at the Agricultural Experiment Station, Pullman.

NO. 4—Threshing experimental variety plots at the Agricultural Experiment Station, Pullman.

NO. 5—Making Silage from sunflowers grown at the Experiment Farm.

An agricultural experiment station as a part of the College of Agriculture is maintained at Pullman with branch stations at Lind, Waterville and Prosser. The Dean of Agriculture is also the director of the station. The majority of the teaching staff of the College of Agriculture are members of the experiment station staff. The College of Veterinary Science and the Departments of Zoology, Entomology and Botany also are represented. In addition, three branch station superintendents, three chemists, one specialist in soils and three crop specialists devote full time to the experiment station work. Between fifty and sixty specific projects and problems are being studied by the station.

COLLEGE OF HOME ECONOMICS

VAN DOREN HALL

THE College of Home Economics endeavors to help prepare women to meet their responsibilities as wage-earners, home makers and good citizens.

The courses of instruction given in this college are planned to meet the needs of four classes of students:

(a) Those specializing in other lines of work, but desiring a knowledge of the general principles and facts of home economics as a part of a liberal education.

(b) Those who wish to make a specialty of home economics for the purpose of teaching the subject in secondary schools as well as teacher training under the Smith-Hughes act.

(c) Those who wish a knowledge of the principles underlying household administration and institutional management.

(d) Those who desire to make a detailed study of home economics in its relation to the arts and sciences which are fundamental in the management of the home.

THE College maintains and operates a practice house for the students of Home Economics. This practice house is a laboratory arranged to afford each student an opportunity for practice in the management of a home. Its purpose is:

(1) To more fully establish standards of right living.

(2) To afford each student opportunity to measure herself by these standards.

(3) To afford the teaching staff means of checking up efficiency of the training given.

(4) To afford a limited amount of vocational experience.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

MECHANIC ARTS BUILDING

Four Years Courses are offered in:

- Architecture
- Civil Engineering
- Commercial Civil Engineering
- Electrical Engineering
- Commercial Electrical Engineering
- Mechanical Engineering
- Commercial Mechanical Engineering
- Mathematics
- Physics

Two Years Courses are offered in:

- Automobile Engineering
- Draftsmens Course
- Builders Course
- Highway Engineering Course

Opportunity is offered for special work for students coming in with outside engineering experience.

The work of the engineer is made up largely of the application of the principles of physical science to industry, construction, transportation and communication, so that engineering is commonly classed as an applied science. It is also true, however, that the successful engineer is the one who has the ability, common sense, inventiveness, vision or whatever else we might call it, to apply the scientific principles with proper recognition of the practical limitations of the job. Viewed in this way, perhaps engineering should be called an art. It is the intimate contact with the practical and permanently useful things of life that gives engineering its great appeal to active men.

COLLEGE OF SCIENCES AND ARTS

MORRILL HALL

COLLEGE OF SCIENCES AND ARTS OFFER COURSES IN

General Botany, Bacteriology,

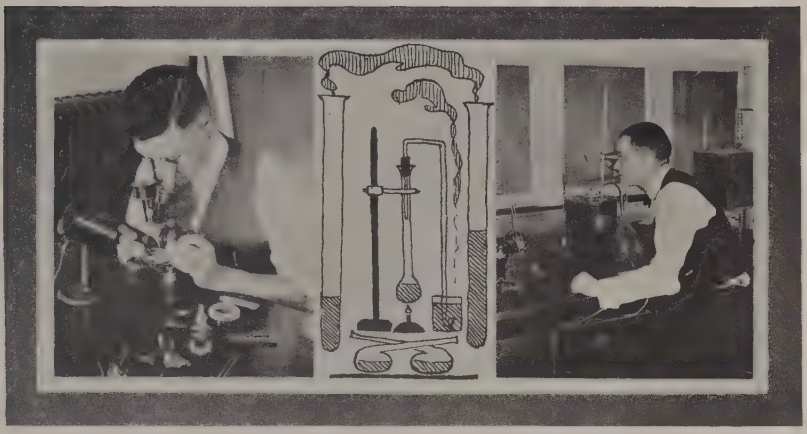
General Chemistry, Chemical Engineering and Agricultural Chemistry,

General Courses in Economic Science and History, Business Administration, Secretarial Work, Accounting and Commercial Teaching, Rural Organization and Leadership,

English and Industrial Journalism,

French, Spanish, German,

Zoology and Entomology.



The sciences and arts cover an important field in the State College, supplying basic training for all students as well as specialized training in specific departments, whether agriculture, engineering, home economics or any other subject.

Chemistry is an important factor in the clothing we wear, the food we eat, our farming operations, our manufacturing, the sanitation of our homes, a fundamental science in our complex modern civilization.

The botanist must not only breed new plants, but must be able to prescribe for sick plants. He must be able to weed out the worthless, and bring about a better cooperation between the plant world and the world of men. The farmer, the orchardist, the gardener, and the sanitarian all need the foundation material supplied by botany.

Zoology makes a special study of economic insects; teaches the students what animal life should be of value to the farmer and to people in general, and what species should be exterminated as pests.

Students are demanding training in the solution of economic and social problems. Since the war this demand has been ever on the increase. Young people want to know the principals of business administration, taxation, and social organization.

That students may have a means of communication with people speaking other languages, that they may read the scientific and economic literature of other peoples, the department of foreign languages is training college students to read and speak the French, Spanish, and German languages.

The most important equipment that a college student requires is the ability to express himself in clear, incisive English. His training in English is really the most important piece of work that he does. It is the vehicle that must carry over his scientific ideas to other people.

COLLEGE OF VETERINARY SCIENCE

The illustration shows the building occupied by the College of Veterinary Science at the State College of Washington. This is well appointed for the purpose for which it was designed and contains laboratories and hospital facilities probably second to none in the United States. The course in veterinary medicine prepares men for a great number of useful vocations. The most attractive is private practice, where most of our graduates are found, but those who prefer other fields of activity find ample opportunity to make special selections from the great group of vocations for which the College of Veterinary Science prepares them.

The group photograph is of a number of graduate veterinarians assembled in convention at Seattle in July, 1921, and contains many graduates of the State College of Washington who are now engaged in various veterinary activities in the northwest. These men represent private practice, teachers and research men, army officers, city veterinarians, state officials and officers of the United States Government.

In the United States at the present time there are estimated to be about 8500 veterinarians and these men are responsible for the protection of the health of animals valued at from eight to ten billion dollars, each veterinarian is then responsible for an average of more than one million dollars worth of livestock. In the face of these facts it is hard to argue that the veterinary profession is crowded. There is room and splendid opportunities for young men in the veterinary profession at the present time.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

In the School of Education four courses are offered:

1. A four-year course for those who are preparing for high school teaching. The schedule of studies is so arranged that a student may make adequate preparation to teach any subject or combination of subjects usually taught in high schools while making the necessary professional preparation to enable him to teach successfully.

2. A four-year course for those preparing to become principals, supervisors or superintendents. In this course the student is given a broad, general training and as thorough professional training as can be given in a four-year college course. In addition to the basal courses in psychology and education, stress is placed upon the different phases of school administration and the supervision of instruction.

3. A four-year course for prospective teachers of Agriculture. Those completing this course are given the degree of Bachelor of Science in Agricultural Education, signifying adequate preparation in both Agriculture and Education to fit them to become successful teachers of Agriculture.

4. A two-year course for the preparation of teachers of Manual Arts. This course prepares the teacher for Manual Arts only. It is made up largely of courses in woodwork, metal work, drawing and design and Education. It is the equivalent of the course in Manual Arts usually given at Manual Training Normal Schools.

GRADUATE WORK

A year of graduate work in Education may be taken in the School of Education leading to the degree of Master of Arts in Education. This course prepares for the larger administrative and supervisory positions and for instructorship in normal schools and colleges and schools of Education.

The degree of Master of Science in agricultural Education may be secured in one year of graduate study by those who hold the degree of B. S. in Agricultural Education and by graduates of the College of Agriculture who have taken the basal education courses as a part of this undergraduate work.

The School of Education is a professional school established for the training of high school teachers, principals, supervisors and superintendents. It brings together and correlates all the resources of the institution for the training of high school teachers and school administrators.

The School of Education has a faculty of six full-time instructors, two half time instructors and a group of teachers of special methods who are members of other divisions of the College.

This division has had a rapid growth since the war and has at the present time an enrollment of one hundred and thirty-five major students. Among them are a number of graduate and undergraduate students preparing for administrative positions.

The students of Education maintain two flourishing education clubs—the Phi Mu Beta for women and Alpha Gamma chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, a national education fraternity for men.

The course of study as outlined herein indicates the scope of work offered.

SCHOOL OF MINES AND GEOLOGY

MINING BUILDING

WHY IS A MINING ENGINEER?

WRITING in 1556 Agricola said: "Many persons hold the opinion that the metal industries are fortuitous and that the occupation is one of sordid toil, and altogether a kind of business requiring not so much skill as labor. But as for myself, when I reflect carefully upon its special points one by one, it appears to be far otherwise. For a miner must have the greatest skill in his work, that he may know first of all what mountain or hill, what valley or plain, can be prospected most profitably, or what he should leave alone; moreover, he must understand the veins, stringers and seams in the rocks. Then he must be thoroughly familiar with the many and varied species of earths, juices, gems, stones, marbles, rocks, metals and compounds." (Geology and Mineralogy.) "He must also have a complete knowledge of the method of making all underground works. Lastly there are the various systems of assaying substances and of preparing them for smelting; and here again there are many altogether diverse methods. Furthermore there are many arts and sciences of which the miner should not be ignorant.

First there is philosophy, that he may discern the origin, cause and nature of subterranean things; for then he will be able to dig out the veins easily and advantageously, and to obtain more abundant results from his mining. Secondly, there is medicine, that he may be able to look after his diggers and other workmen, that they do not meet with those diseases to which they are more liable than men of other occupations, or if they do meet with them that he himself may be able to heal them or may see that the doctors do so. Thirdly follows Astronomy, that he may know the divisions of the heavens, and from them judge the direction of the veins. Fourthly, there is the science of surveying, that he may be able to estimate how deep a shaft should be sunk to reach the tunnel which is being driven to it, and to determine the limits and boundaries in these workings, especially in depth. Fifthly, his knowledge of arithmetical science should be such that he may calculate the cost to be incurred in the machinery and workings of the mine. Sixthly, his learning must comprise architecture that he himself may construct the various machines and timber work required underground, or that he may be able to explain the method of construction to others. Next, he must have knowledge of drawing that he can draw plans of his machinery. Lastly, there is the law, especially that dealing with metals, that he may claim his own rights, that he may undertake the duty of giving others his opinion on legal matters, that he may not take another man's property and so make trouble for himself, and that he may fulfill his obligations to others according to the law."

SCHOOL OF PHARMACY

THE School of Pharmacy has for its purpose the training of men and women for a vocation in life that offers many opportunities especially in the practice of retail pharmacy; pharmaceutical chemists for manufacturing drug firms; chemists; food and drug inspectors, Federal and State; teachers of pharmacy and chemistry, traveling salesmen, investigators in pharmaceutical research, etc.

The School of Pharmacy offers a two-year course, a three-year course and a four-year course in Pharmacy. Over 50 per cent of the students enrolled in Pharmacy are three and four year students. The School of Pharmacy also offers a two-year course in Premedicine and Predentistry.

IT IS the motto of the School of Pharmacy to turn out the best pharmacists that it is possible to produce. The reports received from the pharmacists of the Pacific Northwest and the success of the alumni justify the belief that the school has lived up to its motto.

The enrollment has increased during the past three or four years from some forty students to the present enrollment of one hundred and sixteen. It is the wish of the School of Pharmacy that it may continue to enjoy the confidence and support of the pharmacists of the state who have so generously recommended the school to the young men and women who have contemplated the study of pharmacy.

SCHOOL OF MUSIC AND FINE ARTS

MUSIC CONSERVATORY

Exceptional advantages are offered in Piano, Pipe Organ, Voice, Violin, Orchestral and Band Instruments, Public School Music, Conducting, Musical Theory, Expression and Dramatic Art and Fine Arts.

Four-year courses are provided, leading to graduation from the College with the Degree of Bachelor of Arts. In these courses the student may major in Piano, Pipe Organ, Voice, Violin, Musical Theory or Fine Arts.

A two-year course is offered in Oral Expression and Dramatic Art and also in Public School Music for the training of Music Supervisors. Certificates are given upon the completion of these courses. Students majoring in other departments of the College may take any of the above courses as electives.

Instruction is free in Harmony, Counterpoint, Composition, Music Appreciation, Musical History, Public School Music, Chorus, Glee Clubs, Orchestra and Band and for all class work in Expression and Fine Arts. Tuition fees are charged only for courses requiring individual instruction.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND ATHLETICS

THE work offered in the Department of Physical Education and Athletics is intended to stimulate the interest of the students in their personal health, to help the physically deficient overcome their defects, and to prevent an unhealthy condition resulting from the change from an active, outdoor occupation to the sedentary life of a student. The aim is to develop organic vitality and moral vigor—in other words, to develop health, strength and endurance in order to withstand the strains of our modern, strenuous life. For the general student there are the gymnasium classes, in which instruction is given in calisthenics and corrective exercises, elementary and advanced apparatus work, plays and games, folk and interpretative and esthetic dancing, and instruction by means of lectures in hygiene. Intra-mural and intercollegiate athletic classes are also held in football, baseball, basketball, track and field athletics, wrestling, boxing, tennis, cross-country running, and field hockey.

In addition to the general work in physical training, the department offers a four-year normal training course, leading to the degree of bachelor of science in physical education. The object of the normal training course is to train men and women as physical and recreational directors, playground supervisors and athletic coaches. Compulsory physical training legislation in the schools has resulted in an increased demand for trained coaches and instructors, and to meet this demand the four-year normal training course is offered.

THE VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

(DEPARTMENT OF ELEMENTARY SCIENCE)

N. J. AIKEN

The Department of Elementary Science is a VOCATIONAL SCHOOL, not a high school, not a preparatory school. It is maintained for the purpose of equipping persons to earn their living in trades, industries, agriculture, business, and home making. The law provides eighth grade entrance requirements, and a minimum age of sixteen years. The students of this Department, however, are much older than sixteen, averaging more than twenty-three.

This Vocational School is designed to open the door of opportunity to that group of young men and women found everywhere, and larger in number than the group that has completed high school, who are passed high school age and have come to realize the need of further education to fit them for a definite occupation which they wish to persue.

Again it is intended to serve those young people who live in rural districts where high schools do not offer four-year courses. This Department is not open to young persons of high school age living in a school district where there is an accredited high school.

THE DIVISION OF GENERAL COLLEGE EXTENSION

EXTENSION CLASSES IN SPOKANE

Correspondence courses, extension classes, educational motion pictures, extension lectures and musical recitals—these are the four means by which the Division of General College Extension carries the intellectual and social service of the State College to those who cannot come to Pullman.

Less than three years old, this service has won recognition among ambitious folk who are willing to work for their own self-advancement. The enrollment in correspondence courses and in extension classes has had a healthy, continuous increase, and an ever-widening circle of communities in the Northwest are profiting by the motion pictures and lectures.

The editor and business staff wish to take this opportunity to thank the staff for their splendid co-operation and also to express their appreciation to the following people, many of whom were not Juniors, who were not on the staff, but who helped materially in the publication of this annual: The Crimson "W" Club, Ellison Mundy, Robert Patrick, Clayton Burnhard, Thad Byrne, Florence Higley, Zylpha Eaton, Mary Stewart, Marion Hackett, Alice Turner, Howard Burnham, Madeleine Powers, Donald Stewart, Donald Merrin, Ted Clodius, Hazel Baird, Harleth Steinke, Zelma McCroskey, Gilbert Peck, Bert Moore, Catherine McIntyre, Otto Hill, Ed. Leahy, Rodgers Hamilton, Victor Herrington, Merle Junk.

Much of the credit for the success of this annual is due Mr. Fred S. Wimans, of the Western Engraving and Colortype Co., and Mr. R. E. Shipley and Mr. W. A. McMahon, of the Inland-American Printing Co. These men have worked diligently with the staff, and in appreciation of their untiring efforts, too much can not be said. The staff also appreciates the help and constructive criticism of Mr. H. V. Hoar, of the Zellerbach Paper Co.

COUGAR'S PAW

A semi-humorous magazine, published quarterly by the Associated Students. Verse, original stories, and pertinent features of campus interest supplement the customary jokes and cartoons of the college comic.

The Cougar's Paw is successor to the Glebe, W. S. C.'s first literary magazine.

STOCK JUDGING TEAM

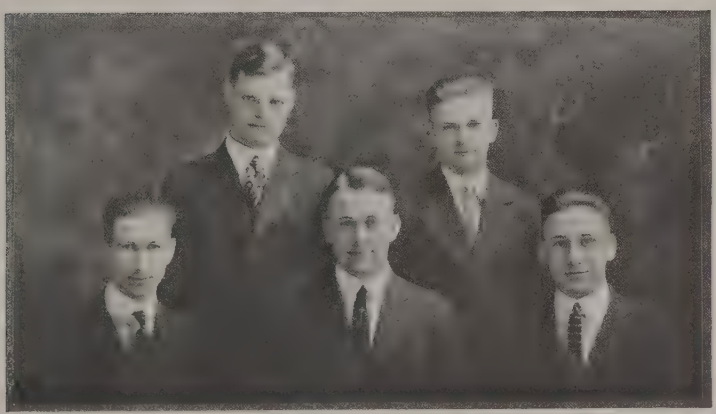
MEMBERS of the stock-judging team competing at the Western Royal and Pacific International shows were D. B. Leonard, J. Howard Dobbin, C. C. Gay, Walter Haun and Ellison F. Mundy. Alternates: Martin Alexander and Olin Herrett. The team was first at the Western Royal competing against Oregon Agricultural College and University of Idaho; and it was second at the Pacific International competing against Oregon Agricultural College, University of California, University of Idaho, University of British Columbia and Utah Agricultural College. Ellison Mundy was second high man at the Pacific International, being high man in sheep and horses.

The team which represented the State College at the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago was composed of D. B. Leonard, J. Howard Dobbin, Martin Alexander, Walter Haun, Ellison E. Mundy and Orland Tonnemaker, alternate. The State College team placed ninth out of twenty-one teams, defeating such schools as Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, New York and Kansas. Professor Hackedorn coached the team and deserves much of the credit for the successful season.

DAIRY JUDGING TEAM

The team which was composed of Robert Patrick, Rudie W. Oltman and Claude Anderson placed first at the Pacific International and won the silver trophy cup presented by Hoard's "Dairyman." Professor Woodward coached the team.

DAIRY PRODUCTS JUDGING TEAM



Personnel of the team: William Putnam, Robert Knox and Otto Hill. The team was third at the Portland show. William Putnam was first in butter judging. Instructor Rishoi coached the team.

ORATORY AND DEBATE

Turner Weller Byrne

Oratory and debate are under the direct control of the Associated Students, and are supported by a fixed proportion of the funds of that body. The affairs of this activity are managed by a committee of three from the Associated Students who work in conjunction with the Faculty and the Debate Coach. Gold emblems, known as the gold "W", are awarded to students who represent the college in oratory or debate.

Interest in public speech contests on the Campus has greatly increased. All contests were well attended by enthusiastic supporters.

The Declamation Contest which was open to all under-graduate students was held on January 20. The winner was Miss Katherine Driscoll, a Freshman.

A resume of the intercollegiate debates follows:

March 11, 1922

State College of Washington vs. Oregon Agricultural College.

Resolved; "That the principle of the closed-shop should be applied to American industry."

Affirmative at O. A. C.; Rex Turner, Chas. McGlade.

Decision in favor of O. A. C.

Negative at Home; Fred Weller, James Lindsey.

Decision in favor of W. S. C.

April 3, 1922

State College of Washington vs. University of Denver.

Resolved: "That the union shop should be adopted in all American industries."

Affirmative at Home; Rex Turner, Thad Byrne, Fred Weller.

Decision in favor of University of Denver.

An intercollegiate oratorical contest in which eight Pacific Coast colleges and universities will be repreesnted, will be held May 6. Washington State will be represented by a representative chosen in the tryout April 10.

The Oratory and Debate Committee consists of:

Charles McGlade, Chairman Valeda Brockway James Lindsey

MUSIC

THE GLEE CLUB

GLEE CLUB

VARSITY QUARTET

Sorenson Holleque Bernhard Hilborn

HANDICAPPED by a group of handsome singers and a stormy day, the 1922 Glee Club started its 25th annual warbling tour on the 21st of February. This year's tour was broken into two trips—the first covering the coast, and the second Spokane and vicinity. From all reports the club has lived up to the tradition that each year's program betters that of the year before.

As a usual thing one town is used to experiment on, and this year Malden was thus honored. Taking a stage from Rosalia and riding across the rough country over almost impassible roads, the club arrived just in time for ham and eggs before the concert. After the program, at which all twelve families were represented, the gang continued their auto ride into Spokane. This trip was marred only by a single accident, Phil Fox yawned and thrust the famous Fox saxophone through the window.

The first concert out of Spokane was given at Prosser. Owing to a wreck on the road the club arrived with just time to don the "soup and fish." Ivan Travis met his people here and planned a dance for the gang after the show. Rubbers always appear sometime on the trips and this time one of the frosh members was discovered wearing a pair on the dance floor.

At Yakima someone kindly passed the word that most of the gang were poor boys working their way through school so this year they were able to escape with all their clothes. Here the railroad was kind enough to hold the train fifty minutes, permiting the boys to enjoy a short dance—even then it was difficult for some of them to make it. Cecil Gholson sported a car in his home town, and showed the club the Yakima Valley.

The long jump from Yakima to Bellingham seemed to do the boys good, for in this town one of the best programs of the trip was given. Leslie Sorenson did noble work on the quartet that night—having reasons. Singing before the Dairy Club the following noon the boys won a freezer of ice cream. In this same town the difficulties of the handsome signers first became noticeable. One of the mathmetic sharks figured out that there were thirty girls to every man. The front row was full of them, and they nearly broke up the show by announcing audibly that, "that one's mine." William Steiner was so popular that three of the fairest followed the interurban nearly to Mt. Vernon the next day. At Mr. Vernon the good work of the club continued, and Frank Jenne again had a packed house.

At Seattle, the next day, the sacred program at the Plymouth Church was put over with difficulty. Leslie Sorenson lost so much sleep in Bellingham—having reasons—that he slumbered sweetly in the hotel all through the performance. This eliminated the quartet numbers entirely and left the tenor section noticeably weak.

At Tacoma, the next stop, "Wadie" Holleque and Willis Kirkpatrick shined like diamonds. Tacoma's their home town. "The Shiek" was a popular number that night and "Kirk" proved equal to the occasion. A dinner dance at the Tacoma Hotel was enjoyed after the concert.

The Elks club, of Olympia, at a banquet the following evening, treated the boys to real elk meat. This was followed by a dance. It was at the Olympia concert that the strain began to show on the singers. Due to a heavy cold, Clayton Bernhard had considerable difficulty in putting his work across.

Day Hilborn got a big hand in his native city—Centralia. The audience which packed the high school auditorium was very appreciative. Many drove over from Chehalis to hear the concert.

The concert at "Sunny" Aberdeen was minus the dancing skit of Cecil Gholson, who contracted the flu. He was unable to overcome the attack during the rest of the trip. Aberdeen will long be rememberd by the gang as the scene of the Great Crab Party.

The next event and the feature of the tour was the joint concert with the University of Washington. This was the first of its kind held with the Seattle Institution and it proved a success. Despite the University daily's stout maintainance that there was no one present but the local club, others saw much in the program of the Cougar to commend, and Washington State captured her full share of the honors.

The proverbial "off" night came on the last stop of the tour—Ellensburg. The program was a sleepy one, but the boys forgot their weariness in the dance that followed. No one seems able to explain it, but Delmar Ruble arrived at the train looking the part of a ragged tramp.

After a three weeks' rest, the two home concerts were given, and practice completed for the second half of the tour. On April fifth the second attack was launched at Garfield. The program—changed only by the absence of Donald Sharp, the "Dapper Dan," who had left school— was well received, and showed the effects of its final polishing.

In Tekoa the following evening the concert was a success, fortelling the hit the boys were to make in Spokane. In Spokane they sang before the Teachers' Institute where they were received with hearty applause and many compliments. On Saturday night a concert was given at Millwood. It was the club's first appearance there and Millwood proved a royal host.

The final program was the sacred concert given at the First Presbyterian Church in Spokane on Sunday night, and the boys returned home Monday noon.

DRAMATICS

"THE PRINCE CHAP"

Directed by Mr. N. E. Reeid

MASK AND DAGGER, the honorary dramatic fraternity of the State College of Washington, presented for its annual play a comedy drama, "The Prince Chap." This production from the pen of Edward Peple, was of a more subtle nature than the plays which preceded it. The members of the cast all gave it a careful and detailed study, as was evident from the finished and professional performances which they put on. There was a nicety of balance throughout the play, giving it a well-knit and polished finish which does not mark amateur productions.

Robert Douglas as the sculptor, did very consistent acting throughout the play; he owned his audience to the last curtain. Hulda Schweer and Cecil Whitfield gave slightly different interpretations of the haughty Alice Travers, but both characters were equally well appreciated by the audience. As always, Puckers, the rough and tumble little scullery maid, won much applause; Ida Louise Anderson, who played this part, seemed to have an original knack with this special type. Mr. Lindsay also showed an aptness for doing English character work. The two grade school children, Margaret Hoover and Katherine Heck, carried the difficult part of Claudia through the entire second scene of the first act without a waver.

Madeline Kalinowski, a diminutive professional actress, was certainly an asset to the act in which she played. In the able hands of Irene Oliver and June Sanders, we saw a charming and winning Claudia at nineteen years of age. NaAmy Hedberg played Claudia at eleven. She had the manners and ideas of the child world at her finger tips. The difficult role of Mrs. Arrington, Claudia's mother, who dies, as portrayed by Faerie Wallace, created an atmosphere which held the audience after the curtain lowered on the death scene.

On account of the professional acting and the skill with which each particular part was played, the Mask and Dagger production merited all the praise it received.

"BOUGHT AND PAID FOR"

Directed by Mr. N. E. Reeid

"BOUGHT AND PAID FOR," the Senior Class Play, was a modern drama of a slightly different character than those we had become accustomed to see from our stage, but it scored highly and was a distinct credit to the class.

It gave an opportunity for a portrayal of dramatic talent which was found in Forrest Beck. He played a straight part in a convincing and forceful manner. The drunken scene in the second act was especially well done. Herbert Bergdahl played his favorite happy-go-lucky Jimmie character and certainly lived his part. Both men were very much at ease upon the stage.

NaAmy Hedberg and Marcella Kartheiser gave attractive interpretations. Marguerite Skibeness and Ruth Allen as Virginia's slangy, but good-hearted sister, did some clever acting. The Chinese servant and the French maid were both parts which entailed some difficulty on account of the dialect, but each was well mastered to the last fine point.

The cast of this play did not show any flaw even though the success of the play rested on such a small number, but it ran smoothly and logically up to the climax, showing careful direction and staging.

"NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH"

Directed by Mr. N. E. Reeid

"Nothing but the Truth," the first play of 1921-22, went off with a bound. It was a farce comedy to the last scene. Willie Collier helped by giving us an especially well written play; and a wide-awake cast under the skillful direction of Mr. Reeid did the rest.

Floyd Stevenson, a new player upon the campus, did some of the most commendable acting of the entire cast. His was the character of a broker, who had a great deal of confidence in himself. Mr. Stevenson went through to the finish with an extremely vivid interpretation. Another star of the play was Waverly Lindsey, as Bob, the man who told the truth for twenty-four hours under painful circumstances.

Leone Webber, a versatile artist, showed herself to be a master of the character of Mabel. Miss Webber's fort seemed to be character work, and she drew laugh after laugh from her audience. The role of the effeminate bishop was adroitly done by Carric Andrews. Mrs. Ralston, a society matron, blossomed beautifully as drawn by Elizabeth LaRue and Lois Lingenfelter. Marie Christensen and Faerie Wallace were both very winsome and fascinating in the character of Gwen.

The play was full of comical situations and good lines and was enthusiastically received.

"LITTLE WOMEN"

Directed by Mr. N. E. Reeid

The play, "LITTLE WOMEN," dramatized from Louise M. Alcott's book by that title, was the second of the school year. This comedy was built about the incidents of home life among a group of four sisters. Through the first three acts the action took place in the cozy, peaceful atmosphere of the March living room. The fourth act was set in an apple orchard. This scene was especially effective on account of the beautiful red and yellow autumn colors. The story took place during the years 1863-1868, entailing some beautiful period costuming.

Although a comedy in the major part, perhaps the most striking scene of the entire play was that of the third act, the death scene. It was a direct contrast to the free and happy mood of the three acts. During this part of the play Elizabeth Keevy and Mayellen Plaskett did their best acting. Both Jessie Kirkland and Lucinda Kent delighted their audiences with their interpretation of the boyish Jo. Carric Andrews merited much applause in the juvenile character of Laurie. Irene Stevenson, who played opposite him, was also a star in the play. As Amy the young artist, she was gay and winsome in every way. Another part that was acted well was that of Meg, done by Cecile Whitfield.

This type of play has a different appeal from the ordinary comedy and farce. The enthusiasm with which it was received surely encouraged the selection of more serious drama as well as light and broad farce for production.

"THE THIRTEENTH CHAIR"

Something entirely different in the way of plays was the production of the melodrama, "The Thirteenth Chair," by Bayard Veiller. It was exciting from the first curtain to the last and not for an instant did the suspense lessen. The staging entailed some very intricate business and also very difficult and intense acting on the part of those who carried the plot .

Miss Leone Webber and Miss Lucinda Kent, as the mediums, did professional work and not once during the entire play did either of them slip from their character, which was of the vital and broad Irish type. Earl Williams did some of the best acting of the evening as the confidential detective. He was playing at his best every moment. Mrs. Lorine Crumb, who had a very minor part, proved herself to be excellent material for heavier roles. She did some exceptional acting, especially in her responses. Carl Anderson appeared as a middle-aged, successful business man. Mr. Anderson always does consistent acting. Another minor part which was well carried was that of Mason, the murderer. Earl Simpkins did this character and he was responsible in a large measure for the definite and sharp climax which the play had.

The intensity which the performances had was due to the spiritualistic atmosphere and uncanny situations. It was decidedly unique as far as productions upon this Campus are concerned, and while it afforded an opportunity for excellent training in this type of work it was also highly entertaining, being a commercial play.

SOCIETY

VARSITY BALL

TO THE Cougar Guards we owe the success of the Varsity Ball, held January 7, 1922. The gymnasium was transformed into a veritable dance-land by a canopy of crimson and gray streamers, and Indian and "W" blankets upon the sides. The sentinel of the evening was the Cougar, suspended from the center of the canopy.

The programs were white with a gray "W" edged in crimson, placed in a bevelled setting. One inside page was devoted to the names of the Football Squad according to positions, while another page was devoted to the names of the Coaching Staff.

The features for the evening won much admiration. The first was a group of solos by Mrs. Clarke Moss, better known to the State College as Miss Virginia Cooper. Mrs. Moss sang "In the Garden of My Heart," "Song of the Soul" and "Have You Forgotten?" A very clever toe dance was given by Miss Pollette Rodina of Spokane.

The third dance was reserved for "W" men only, who were distinguished by a neat badge consisting of a gray felt "W" upon a red satin background. The eleventh dance, a moonlight waltz, was reserved for the pleasure of the Football Squad.

JUNIOR PROM

THE JUNIOR PROM, honoring the seniors of the class of 1922, was held in the college gymnasium, April 15. The outdoor summer garden effect was cleverly carried out with Spanish moss and greens. At the center, a huge dome formed a canopy over the orchestra. The class colors were also effectively used in decorating.

The feature solos by Mrs. Jeanette Cooper Moss and the Symphony Quartet, added much to the already congenial atmosphere. Original miniature diplomas in maroon as programs further carried out the idea of honoring the seniors.

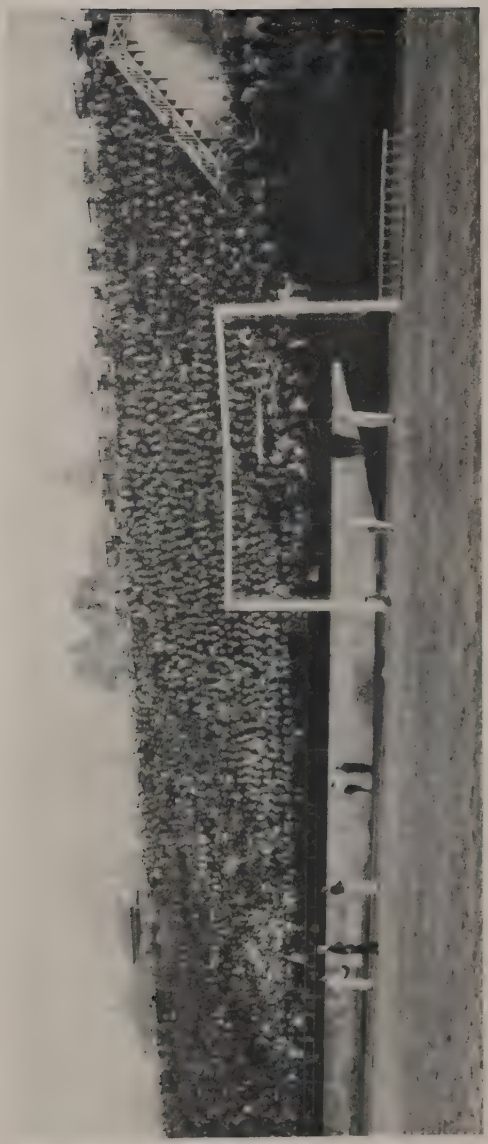
COACHES



THE NEW GRANDSTAND

FOOTBALL 1921

WHEN thirteen lettermen answered Coach Welch's first call for football material early last fall, prospects for a successful Cougar gridiron season loomed on the sport horizon in large proportions. In addition to this nucleus of thirteen battle-scarred veterans, the coaching staff had a wealth of material from last year's championship frosh team to aid them.

The 1921 gridiron season was ushered in rather inauspiciously when the All-Stars trounced Welch's machine October 8, on Rogers Field to the tune of 31-7. However, the Cougars came back strong the following Saturday at Spokane and swamped Gonzaga under a 54-7 score.

On October 21, Welch's gridders met their first real opposition of the season in the form of the heavy Idaho team. In the second half of the contest lack of condition told on the Gem-Staters, and they were sent home with the small end of a 20-3 score.

On Saturday, October 29, was played the hardest game of football in the 1921 Coast conference season. It was on this date that the University of California virtually won the conference championship when they defeated the Cougars at Portland, by a score of 14-0. In speaking of this gridiron classic, George Varnell, official conference referee, said:

"I have never seen a finer, cleaner, harder battle than the one Saturday at Portland. California won like sportsmen and Washington State lost the same way. After all, that is the great issue, and not who scores the greatest number of points."

Disappointed, but not disheartened over the outcome of the California game, the team returned home and set to work with a vim to prepare for the contest with Oregon, which was the next game on the schedule. The Lemon-Yellow machine showed unexpected strength in this melee, however, and managed to hold the Cougars to a 7-7 tie before a large crowd of old grads on Homecoming Day, November 5.

On Armistice Day Welch's cohorts journeyed to Corvallis to fill their date with the powerful O. A. C. eleven. At the end of the first half the Aggies were in the lead, but the Cougars finally succeeded in subduing them by a 7-3 count.

The next game on the schedule, with the University of Washington at Seattle, was rated as the big game of the season. Welch's players knew that if they turned in a win over the Huskies, Cougar supporters would count the season as an eminent success. Hence they went into this fracas determined to humble Bagshaw's pets at any cost. Their 14-0 victory over the purple and gold eleven is a matter of history.

The last game of the season was played with the University of Southern California at Los Angeles on December 3. The team returned from their southern trip with the short end of a 28-7 score, but true to Cougar traditions, had no words of alibi to offer for their defeat.

On the whole, the 1921 football season was one of the most successful ones since that golden year in Cougar football annals which culminated in the defeat of Brown and the winning of the championship of the United States. In speaking of the gridiron season just past, "Hack" Applequist, our genial friend and assistant coach, says:

"The 1921 Cougar team was the best dispositioned team in my experience at the State College."

THE FOOTBALL SQUAD

IN THE OREGON GAME

EARL DUNLAP (3)—"Dutch"*

Captain and all-coast center for the third time. Finished his third year of varsity ball in fighting style. One of the most feared men in coast football circles. Given honorable mention on Walter Camp's all-American team.

FORD DUNTON (2)—"Hopper"

Captain-elect, and one of the four best tackles in the coast conference. Added to his laurels by doing the punting when Jenne was forced out of the line-up. His great playing was due to aggresiveness and ability to get the jump on his opponents.

*Number of years on the team.

IRVING GOES THROUGH TACKLE FOR IDAHO

MILO M'IVOR (3)—"Pink"

One of Welch's most consistent players. A hard worker who gave more real inspiration to the squad than any other one man. "Pink" is the first player to have his name inscribed on the J. F. Bohler medal.

WALLACE M'KAY (2)—"Bud"

"Bud" could always be relied upon to open up a six-foot hole in the opposing line whenever yardage was needed. Rated by George Varnell as one of the two best guards on the Pacific Coast.

SAX GOES AROUND RIGHT END—IDAHO GAME

GEORGE BOHANNON (2)—"Bo"

Veteran of two seasons at the wing position. "Bo" looked nice when it came to stepping in and around the interference and nailing the man with the ball.

MOE SAX (2)—"Gunny"

Although a midget in size, electrified the crowds with his brilliant open field running. A brainy field general and slippery as an eel when given the ball. Starred in the Turkey Day tilt with the U. of W.

BOHANNON RUNNING A CRISS-CROSS—IDAHO GAME

MIKE MORAN (3)—"Mike"

The most consistent ground gainer on the squad. Traveled through the opposing line like measles through a kindergarden, whenever given the ball. Mentioned by Walter Camp in his all-American selections.

ROY SANDBERG (2)—"Sandy"

A consistent ground gainer from the full-back position. Hit the line like a bullet and played the game for all it was worth. One of the four Cougars mentioned by Camp in his all-American selections.

IN THE OREGON GAME

FRANK SKADAN (3)—"Curley"

Alternated with Sax and McIvor in calling signals from the pivotal position. A sprained ankle kept him among the reserves most of the season.

ALBERT DAVIS (2)—"Buck"

A stone wall on defense and a terror on offense when riled by his opponents. A line-man Welch could always depend upon.

IN THE IDAHO GAME

HAROLD HANLEY (3)—"Bones"

The hard luck player of the squad. Played three years at end where he was a valuable asset to the team, both on offense and defense. Injuries prevented him from getting into most of the games.

ELDON JENNE (3)—

One of the finest athletes Washington State has ever produced. A consistent trainer and a versatile football player. Eldon played a steady game at right half and held down the punting job most of the season.

LINCOLN MEEKER (1)—"Link"

Carried his man out of the play with monotonous regularity. A fighting tackle who typified the invincible Cougar spirit on the athletic field.

ARTHUR HAMILTON (1)—"Art"

Amply justified predictions made at the beginning of the season by stepping into his brother Fred's shoes at left tackle. Received his training on last year's champion Frosh team.

ERNEST DURRWACHTER (1)—"Butch"

One of the hardest fighters on the squad. Showed up best in smashing interference and getting through the line. Demonstrated just how left guard should be played in the Idaho fracas.

JOHN ZAEPFEL (1)—"Johnny"

Another star of last year's Frosh, who made good with a bang. Starred at half-back in the California game. Cougar supporters expect great things of him next season.

WILLIAM WINANS (1)—"Scrapiron"

Surprised Cougar fans by his successful end runs in the U. of W. game. Showed best at right half in the latter part of the season.

VERNARD HICKEY (1)—"Vern"

Captain of last year's Frosh and star of every game he played in. Held down the end and half-back positions equally well. Member of mythical all-coast second team, and given honorable mention on Camp's all-American team.

BASKET BALL TEAM

BASKETBALL

REVIEW OF THE SEASON

WITH but three letter men to work with, and confronted with a serious lack of experienced men in the cage sport, Doc Bohler set to work at the very beginning of the basketball season to mould an entirely new aggregation. Selecting Captain Friel as the best long range shot on the squad, he built up a style of play which made Friel the important cog in most combinations. This system worked well until the other colleges in the Conference began to fathom it, and accordingly built up a special system of defense against the Cougar captain.

The Coast conference season was ushered in with the series with California, played on the local floor. Although the Bears were reputed to have a team composed of veterans from their last year's championship aggregation, W. S. C. managed to break even in this series, winning the second contest after losing the first one the night before.

After resting three days, the Cougars dropped two games to Idaho, the dark-horse of the Conference and the ultimate champion. The week following, Doc's hoopsters took their only long trip of the season, playing the U. of W., Stanford and California each two games. Of these six games, the Cougars won the two with Stanford, but lost the contests with the Huskies at Seattle, and the Bears at Berkeley, by decisive margins.

Returning home after this rather disastrous invasion of foreign territory, the Cougars next played the U. of W. a series of two games. Doc's players reverted to type in this series, in as much as they allowed the Huskies to cop the first contest, and then came back strong and swamped them the following night.

The next two games on the schedule, played with the Oregon Aggies at Pullman, resulted in wins for O. A. C. in both contests. The curtain was officially rung down on the Conference season when Idaho defeated the Cougars in a rough game on the Moscow floor. There was a return game originally scheduled for this contest, but on account of the flu ban then in effect, this game was called off, since it would not have changed the individual standings in the Conference.

BRYAN FRIEL—"Jack"

Captain and second year as a star at the forward berth. Was handicapped by the fact that other conference teams centered their defense on him more than any other of Doc's players. Has one more year to play.

HAROLD SORENSON—"Sornie"

Captain-elect and one of the hardest workers on the squad. Alternated with Cisna at the pivotal position. Sornie's playing is not of the spectacular variety, but is of the kind that wins games through team-work.

LEON SAYERS—"Gowdy"

Made good at forward in his first year on the squad. If Gowdy couldn't go around a player, he'd go under him. Throughout the season his motto was, "The bigger they are, the, etc." Great things are expected of him during the next two years.

RICHARD CISNA—"Dick"

Ineligible during the first semester, but made his presence felt when he finally did get into the lineup. Distinguished himself by outjumping Sielk, his lanky opponent in the U. of W. games. Played his third and last year for W. S. C.

CLARENCE LOOMIS—"Spud"

One of Doc's best guards when it came to team work and putting fight into the squad. Will be back next year to earn his third letter in the cage sport.

VICTOR HERRINGTON—"Vic"

First year at the guard position. As good an exponent of team work as could be found among Doc's dribblers. Will be back to strengthen the team next year.

ERNEST BURKE—"Ernie"

Second year on the team. Another candidate for three-year honors in the basket sport. Was not seen in action on the local floor much this season, as he was used in the games away from home.

LOWELL SCHROEDER—"Pullman"

Had first call among the substitute guards. Received his training on last year's Frosh team.

BASEBALL

SANDY IN ACTION

M'CLELLAN ROCKEY—"Chick"

Played a steady game at shortstop. The hotter they came, the better "Chick" liked them. Had the good habit of poling a homer now and then.

ALBERT MULLER—"Al"

A lanky first-sacker who could spear the pill out of thin air. Always talked the game, and kept the team in a fighting spirit. Last year on team.

ROY SANDBERG—"Sandy"

Captain-elect, and a backstop that can nab anything. Led the team with a batting average of .431. Has an unusually wicked line with which to fuss the batter.

FRANK SKADAN—"Curley"

"Curley" had more steam on the ball than any other pitcher. First year on the team, and worked in the box like a professional.

STANLEY BRAY—"Stub"

Played behind the plate and had a sure peg to second. One of the leaders with the stick. First year on the team.

JULIAN ROUSE—"Tod"

Held down the second sack like a veteran. Good at tagging a player trying to steal a base. Two more years to go.

ARCHIE RULEY—"Dixie"

Give him a warm day, and he will give an exhibition of real pitching. First year in the box.

BRYAN FRIEL—"Jack"

Another of Barber's tossers who had lots on the ball besides the cover. Two more years to play.

EARL FOSTER—"Frog"

Starred at left field. Noted for his brilliant catches while on the run. First year on the team.

LEO MORAN—"Mike"

One of the heavy sluggers on the team. Noted for his thrilling catches in the outfield, and his long pegs to home plate. One more year to play.

MARTCIL KOTULA—"Tuley"

Veteran pitcher who always delivered the goods hot. Had a naughty combination of curves to fool the batter. Last year on team.

WILLIAM KING—"Bill"

Held down third sack most of the season. Always used his head, and could get the ball to first in a hurry.

IVAN M'DONALD—"Mac"

Grabbed the long ones at center field, and always ready to back up second. First year.

THE BASEBALL TEAM

REVIEW OF THE SEASON

WITH only two weeks in which to whip a team into shape Coach Barber set to work, and with the aid of new material, built a cup winning machine around a nucleus of six letter men. Barber, who played thirteen years of major league baseball, believes in a heavy hitting team above all, and so he picked his team from the upper dozen sluggers.

The season started off with a bang when the varsity outplayed the all-stars on April 9. Although the all-stars were more experienced than the varsity, they lost the game on errors and lack of practice.

In the next practice game, Barber's men defeated the strong Gonzaga nine, the Irishmen showing some clever fielding.

The Pacific Coast conference season opened up on Rogers Field April 25, with Oregon crossing bats with the Cougars. Although each team took one game, W. S. C. showed far superior work with the bat, and lost the first game only through errors.

The following week Coach Barber's nine took two easy ones from O. A. C. The Beavers had difficulty in keeping a twirler on the mound long enough for him to get warmed up, so heavy was the slugging of the Cougars.

In the next two contests the Cougars outplayed Whitman in every branch of the game, winning by terrible slaughters. At this stage of the season, W. S. C. was rated at the head of the Coast Conference, a position which she never dropped.

On May 9, Coach Barber and thirteen men invaded Oregon territory, and succeeded in winning two games from Oregon, and splitting the series with O. A. C. The last game with the Beavers was one of the tightest games played during the entire season.

Returning home, the Cougars faced some new meat in the way of the fast University of Washington team. The first was won easily, but the Huskies took the second by slugging the pill all over the lot.

The Vandals sprung a complete surprise when they romped off with the first of a two-game series, but the old Cougar fight proved too much for them and we took the second game easily.

The next series at Seattle proved to be the deciding factor of the conference. W. S. C. had only to break even with the Huskies in order to gain the championship. When we dropped the first game gloom settled on the Cougar camp, but after a day of rest from the hard trip, our team came back and won a tight game, thereby making themselves the Pacific Coast Champions.

While on this trip Barber's tossers again defeated Whitman twice, and took Gonzaga into camp in a practice game.

The Cougars split the last two games with the Vandals, these games having no direct bearing on the Conference standings.

With Coach Barber signed up for another year, and nine letter men eligible, Cougar baseball fans are looking forward to a still more successful season next Spring.

FRESHMAN BASEBALL

Interest was keen in Frosh baseball, and accordingly a speedy machine was developed. Although only four games were scheduled, the Frosh had lots of practice with the varsity, which materially aided both nines in gaining teamwork. The Babes succeeded in winning all four of their games, two of them being from their traditional rivals, the Vandal Frosh.

THE TRACK TEAM

LOOMIS FIRST AGAINST IDAHO

ELDON JENNE—

Captain and best pole vaulter on the Coast. Member of the American Olympic team, and represented the State College at the Pennsylvania Relay Carnival. Point gainer in any of the jumps and javelin. Finished his last year for the Cougars as high point man in several of the meets.

FRANCIS ROWLEE—"Frank"

Captain-elect and conceded to be the best two-miler on the Coast. Usually wins the mile and two-mile, and is known for his terrific sprints at the end of a race. Due to sickness he was out of two meets, but showed his iron nerve by coming back strong in the Northwest Conference Meet.

ONE HUNDRED YARD DASH

FRED HAMILTON—"Fritz"

Another of Doc's consistant all-around athletes. Takes points in all of the weight events. "Fritz" holds the present College record in the discus, and has one more year to wear the winged "W."

LESTER HERMAN—"Bounce"

One of the fastest starters on the team. Handy in the sprints, and will probably be shifted to the hurdles for next year. Has two more years to run.

LOVE THROWS THE DISCUS

NOEL BAKER—"Bake"

Understudy of Jenne in the pole vault. Took points in every meet he entered, and his loss by graduation will be felt by next year's team.

HENRY MICHEL—"Heiny"

One of the best half-milers ever turned out by this school. Altho always up against a fast field, he was sure of a place. Holds the present College record in the 880.

THE FINISH OF THE MILE

WARREN LOVE—"Mercury"

"Fritz's" sidekick in the weights. Always sure to cop some points in any meet. Will probably develop into a good shot putter in the next two years.

CLARENCE LOOMIS—"Spud"

All-around athlete who made letters in three branches of sports. Showed classy form in the hurdles and always runs off with his share of points.

IN THE IDAHO MEET

ROBERT DAVIS—"Spike"

First year on the team. Speedy in the dashes, and always has a strong pull at the finish of a race. Starred in the Idaho meet, and will be a valuable asset to next year's team.

PERLY WASHBURN—"Prunes"

Consistant trainer who pushes Rowlee's dust for every inch in the two-mile. A hard worker who gains his points by grit and endurance.

REVIEW OF THE SEASON

ALTHOUGH having only three meets in which to show their ability, the Frosh romped off with high honors in each of these, in addition to giving the varsity squad some keen competition in practice. The team was well balanced, especially in the running events. Scheyer in the sprints and 440 showed unusual speed, and was Frosh high point man in all of the meets. Hopkins in the 880, and McLeod in the mile, ran their events in fast time, and will make a strong bid for the varsity next year. Douglas and Trow in the jumps and hurdles, and Hickey and F. Davis in the weights were the other Babes who worked under Doc's careful eye. This yearling aggregation should make creditable addition to next year's varsity.

WRESTLING TEAM

WRESTLING

REVIEW OF THE SEASON

WITH the return of but three varsity wrestlers to school last fall, chances for a bacon-winning aggregation of mat artists looked small as the training season began. A cracked rib in an early season bout put Cliff Gay out of the running, leaving but two veterans, Boggs and Ewing, around whom Coach Glahe was forced to build a new team. From the initial turnout, however, great interest was shown in the sport, and the coach did not lack material with which to work.

After two months of intensive training, Glahe sent a practically green team against Idaho in the first conference meet of the season. Although the Cougar mentor was exceedingly dubious of the outcome of this first encounter, the Cougar matmen finally emerged victorious after five hard tussles. A find was uncovered in this meet in the person of Jahlstrom, W. S. C. lightweight, who subsequently participated in all the meets without losing a match.

Six days later Coach Glahe took his quintet of muscle experts to Moscow and repeated this performance for the edification of the Vandal fans, this time winning by a still more decisive score.

As the next two meets were held in the second semester, another varsity man became eligible in the person of Guldjord, 158-pounder. He took part in the last two meets, but failed to show the aggressiveness that made him a favorite last season, and lost both matches.

In the last two meets of the season W. S. C. was defeated by the same score, 18-14, succumbing to the Oregon Aggies on the local mat and to the U. of W. at Seattle.

LORRAINE BOGGS—"Shorty"

Captain and only three-letter man on the squad. If "Shorty" had been able to wrestle in the O. A. C. meet, the Aggies would probably have gone home without the championship. Wrestles at 145 pounds.

ILMAR JAHLSTROM—"Jolly"

Won more points for W. S. C. than any other man on the team. Tears into his man for a fall every time. Has one more year to represent W. S. C. in the 125 pound class.

STEVEN WHITE—"Steve"

Second year on the squad, but first time for a letter. Won the Pacific Northwest Amateur wrestling championship in the 175 division at Spokane. Will be back next year.

VERNON EWING—"Vern"

Glahe's best defensive wrestler. Gets his men from underneath. Has developed the double-arm roll to professional perfection. Has one more year on the squad, in the 135 pound class.

HEALD

CARROL WEBBER

Captain and second year on the team. Always follows the ball closely and is a dead shot on serves.

MERRILL HEALD

Played in the doubles with Webber, and has plenty of drive behind the ball. Second year on team.

EUGENE CABLE

Made good his first year on team. Played in the singles, and showed some fast work with the racquet.

REVIEW OF THE SEASON

TWO letter men and plenty of new material answered the first call for tennis demons. Although hampered by wet courts, the team sprang a surprise in the first meet, by winning all of the single and double matches from the University of Idaho men.

On May 21, the team entered the Pacific Coast Conference meet, which was staged at Eugene, Oregon. Our men displayed brilliant headwork and speed, but were out-classed by the superior playing of the Californians.

In a triangular meet between Idaho, Whitman and W. S. C., on June 4, the Cougars emerged victorious, winning most of the matches. This made the second win over both Whitman and Idaho. Other matches were played during the season while going to and from meets, which gave the team a percentage of .666 out of 27 matches played.

Dorothy Cunningham.....Treasurer

THE Women's League is the all-women's organization of the college, in which all women hold membership by virtue of their registration in college. The purposes of the League are: To promote unity and mutual helpfulness among the women, to maintain the social and moral standards of the college on a high plane, to insure interest in student activities, training in citizenship and high standards in scholarship.

In order to regulate activities and thereby protect the health and scholarship of women students the Point System was put in operation this year by the Women's League, the Vice-President of the League being chairman of the Point System and a member of the Associated Students' Point System Committee.

The Women's League takes an important part in offering college hospitality, especially at registration time when it meets the trains, assists the Dean of Women and is hostess at registration teas, where the old girls are given an opportunity to meet the new girls.

Women's League sponsors the Big Sister movement which is carried out by Gamma Tau, and the two big women's parties, the Jamboree given by W. A. A. in the fall and the Colonial dance given by Gamma Tau in the spring.

On Mothers' Day, the mothers of the students of the State College of Washington are honored by an annual Mothers' Day Vesper Service.

The League holds membership in the Intercollegiate Conference of All-Women's Organizations and the Washington State Federation of Women's Clubs. The President of the League was sent as a representative to the annual conferences of each of these organizations.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. is the one distinctly Christian organization into which all the college women are invited. Its purpose is to lead students to faith in God, to promote the growth of their Christian faith and character, to influence them to become active church members, and to unite with other Christians in extending the kingdom of God throughout the world. The entire work of the committees is planned for the realization of this purpose. The association also has charge of the employment of the college women. Under the new membership basis any college woman is eligible to membership who is either a member of a protestant evangelical church or is willing to sign the purpose of the Association.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

DOUBLE QUARTET

THE TRIP

THE Girl's Glee Club of the State College of Washington was organized in November, 1921, under the direction of Miss LaVerne Askin, instructor in voice at the State College.

In April, 1922, the club made a tour of the east side of the State, carrying as features, Janet Rae, scotch comedian; Irene Oliver, reader; Lillian Utter, whistler; Leota Scott, dancer, and Doris McReynolds, violinist.

The special feature of the club was the introduction of a new song entitled "Our Alma Mater," composed by Miss Askin and Lillian Stuart, and dedicated to the State College.

The program consisted of songs by the Sextet, and a group of Revolutionary War Period songs done by the Double Quartet in costume.

Everywhere, the club was well received and the maiden trip was very successful.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

WOMEN'S PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

THE work of the Woman's Physical Education Department of the State College of Washington reaches all the women enrolled in the institution. There are six-hundred and fifty women who are taking gymnasium work, including gymnastics, dancing, games and sports. Besides these there are sixteen students majoring in the department.

Miss Mary McKee, head of the department, is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, and has done advanced graduate work at Teachers' College, Columbia University. Miss McKee also taught physical education at the University of Wisconsin and was director of summer school at the University of Michigan. She has done a great deal toward improving the physical education course and placing the department on a firm basis.

Miss Hazel Wright, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, is instructor in the department and has charge of women's athletics and interpretive dancing. Miss Wright won many honors while at the University of Wisconsin, including the Final Emblem Award, the highest honor awarded to physical education majors.

Miss Ruth Morris, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, is assistant instructor in the department having charge of sports.

The Physical Education Department plays a prominent part in furthering activities on the Campus. Among these, during the past year, were the Activity Contest, on Women's Field Day and the May Fete.

Inter-class tournaments are scheduled in the various sports, beginning with hockey in the fall. This sport lasts until after Thanksgiving, when the basketball and indoor baseball season opens. Basketball is followed by outdoor baseball, track and tennis, the finals of which are played off on Women's Field Day.

Points are now awarded for honors in tennis, quoits, archery, apparatus work and dancing. Volley ball has been added this spring as a minor sport.

Following the hockey season is that of indoor baseball and basketball. Much enthusiasm is shown in the interclass tournaments after which the honor teams are chosen and announced at a spread.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Davis Boehme Larson Shaw Dickson Dunning Beck

THE purpose of the Women's Athletic Association is to promote physical efficiency among the women of the State College by fostering an interest in gymnastics, sports and other athletic activities.

The council is composed of officers of the association, a representative from each class, one member representing each activity, and the physical director of women. The council meets once a month to discuss the business to be brought up at the monthly meetings of the Association.

W. A. A. was put on an honorary basis this year requiring one hundred and fifty points and a good scholastic standing for membership. Members are required to earn fifty points a semester in order to retain their membership. The point system was revised making the basis for the winning of the Crimson W sweater eight hundred points and the points may be carried over from year to year. For four hundred points the right to wear the official W. A. A. pin is granted and to the senior W woman who has shown good sportsmanship, service, and who has high scholastic standing the final emblem is awarded.

Virginia Shaw represented the State College at the Northwest Women's Athletic Conference held at Eugene, Oregon.

WOMEN'S FIELD DAY

THE Women's Field Day was held May 28 on Rogers Field. The finals in tennis, track and baseball were played off. This was the first time that the women have had a day all their own and so a great deal of interest was shown. After the games the honor teams were chosen and every one proceeded to the May Fete.

The Soph baseball team won the championship. The track meet consisted of dashes, baseball and basketball throws, running and standing broad jumps, the high jump and a relay race between the classes. The Soph class won the relay and also the meet.

The honor track team was chosen, including those who won 50 points or more in the meet.

Honor track team: Olive Pritchard, Thelma Hayes, Bess Shoemake, Mary Dunning.

MAY FETE

THE Annual May Fete was presented under the direction of the Women's Physical Education Department for the first time on Women's Day, May 28, 1921. Ruth Doane was crowned Queen of the May before a large crowd of spectators. Following the coronation ceremonies, "The Dream Child," a pageant, was presented by Miss Susie Fisher's dancing classes. This consisted of many solo dances, the theme of which was that a mortal child was given one day in which she was to have anything she wished. After wishing for a beautiful garden she passed on into dreamland and thence the pagent. It was given just at a time when the sun was beginning to lower and was very effective. The May pole was wound by the senior women and between the dances the winners of the Crimson W sweaters were announced.

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE DAMES
CHAPTER OF
NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY DAMES

This society was organized for the promotion of social activity among the wives of men registered at the college and non-resident mothers. Many of these women are making it possible for their husbands or sons to complete their college education, and it is felt that they are entitled to some recognition on the campus.

This is the tenth chapter to receive the charter of the National Association of University Dames, an organization just in the embryo. Those who are interested in its progress are watching it with much expectation.

Phi Kappa Phi, a national honorary fraternity, was founded at the University of Maine in 1897, and since that time many Chapters have been installed throughout the country. This organization is dedicated to the Unity and Democracy of Education, and has for its prime object the emphasis of scholarship and character in the thought and life of college students, investigators, and teachers. It is the expectation that the prize of membership will be a stimulus to greater mental achievement.

The following are eligible to membership:

1. Any member of the faculty who is a graduate of the institution or of another of equivalent standing.

2. Graduate students who would have been eligible as undergraduates.

3. Fifteen per cent of the undergraduates who rank among the first fourth of their class and have completed 3 years of work, one of which must have been in residence.

4. Alumni of the College graduating prior to 1919, who would have been eligible at the time of their graduation, and have made an honorable record since graduation.

The All-Ag club is composed of all students enrolled in the College of Agriculture. It was organized in the spring of 1919. The purpose of the club is to bring the students in agriculture in closer touch with each other, to discuss general agricultural problems and to boost the College of Agriculture. Speakers of prominence give instructive talks to the club throughout the year.

In the fall of each year an All-Ag fair, and in the spring the mock sale and show are put on under the auspices of the club. A barn dance, given by the club, follows the fair, and a banquet given for prominent men in agriculture of the state and agriculture students, follows the mock sale. Starting this last year the club publishes a special edition of the Evergreen and puts on the high school student stock judging contest.

Nineteen twenty-one found the club taking over considerable work done by the minor clubs in the College of Agriculture. This has brought good results as all movements of interest to the College of Agriculture are backed by the whole group.

Marmota: "Meliores qui prudenter audeant."

THE NATURAL HISTORY CLUB

The Natural History Club endeavors to stimulate a mutual interest for both student and faculty in the every-day field of Nature. A varied semi-monthly program, participated in by both alike, is rendered, after which a social half hour is enjoyed.

With returning bluebirds and buttercups, all-day outings are taken to the wierd canyon of the Snake, and to the lingering snow fields of the wooded Thatuna Hills.

To be a member one has to have but a kindly appreciation of tints of skies, the gleam of a star, or the silent journey of the falling leaf.

The All Engineers are organized to promote the best interests of the college and the various interests of all the departments of Engineering. The organization aims to promote fellowship among its members, and to interest them in campus activities.

An annual dance is the main social event of the organization. The All Engineers' parade and show held on Saint Patrick's day is also one of the most notable events of the college year.

"A MUCKER'S LIFE"

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Sorry; can't go to your dance. Got to stay home and study.

—W-S-C—

That exam would have been a pipe, IF I had only drawn that other set of questions.

—W-S-C—

The A student doesn't know any more than the rest of us??? He's just lucky.

—W-S-C

I've quit smoking.

—W-S-C—

Going to the Library on a nice Spring evening to STUDY.

Putting on a dance downtown for two dollars and a half per couple.

—W-S-C—

Prof.—I'll dismiss this class a little early so you won't have to hurry to make your next class???

—W-S-C

Quit using the phone after seven thirty so as not to disturb the study hour.

—W-S-C

Sophs pulled through the Lake by the Frosh.

W-S-C

A Frosh at the Junior Prom.

SCANDAL—Special from the Scribblers

Heard in the stacks at the library:

Catherine—My goodness! Floyd, when did you shave last?

—W-S-C—

Heard in the grandstand (too dark to see who said it): I wish Mil Perry and Hack Applequist would give some one else a chance at the press box.

—W-S-C—

Heard in Tanglewood last fall: Walter Holleque, you have gone and ruined another hair net.

—W-S-C—

Tom Blake searched the Library for the book on "The Manufacture of Wine," and the librarian discovered that Dad Waller has had said book in his possession since 1920. Now the question is, what did Tom Blake want with this book; and also, what had Dad Waller been using a volume of such con-damning evidence for?

—W-S-C—

Heard at the Kappa Sigma left-over dance during Christmas vacation: Buck Knight introducing Prof. Dumeir to Miss Gould, in the receiving line, "I presume, Professor Dumeir, it isn't necessary to introduce you to your wife." You should have seen Buck blush when he realized what he had done. (Buck wasn't the only one who was fussed, either.)

—W-S-C—

Question—How came that can of snuce to roll across the Gym and turn a real pretty curve to land right in front of Curly S?

—W-S-C—

Fat Isaacs, a promising follower of Caruso, is progressing rapidly with his music. He got as far as the third bar, the other night, and was still sober.

It is reported that George Bohannan and Al Hopkins seduced a number of innocent Frosh into paying towel rent, and then they bought pinochles and esquimo pie with the returns. They are also accused of sending Fresh MEN to Hazel Wright for P. E. Instruction.

—W-S-C—

The above is not so. The Chief Scribbler has taken the trouble, time and exertion to interview the above mentioned men and they state that they did not buy pinochles and esquimo pie with the money, but malted milks, and that the Frosh who were sent to Hazel were sent for dancing lessons. Bo said that he saw these birds at a dance the night before. We hope that this will stop the undesirable comment on this subject in the future.

—W-S-C—

Who is Johnny Walker, John Dewar, Sonny Brooks, Sandy MacDonald, Donald McKinzy and Mr. D. G. Gordon? Some one said they were Sigma Chi's; a Pi Phi said she thought they were Beta's; a Kappa thought they were Spe pledges; a Tri Delt said she just knew they were Lambda Chi's; but a wee pledge at the Alpha Chi house sure had the dope when she said the afore-mentioned men had not pledged as yet, but were being rushed by ALL of the men's groups on the campus.

—W-S-C—

Al. Roberts, by invitation, and Dean Gerlach spent an afternoon discussing the different engaged couples. Tea was served and a very pleasant and enjoyable afternoon was had by all.

SCANDAL IN HOLLYWOOD

Al Roberts Drags Committee to Ground

Playing upon the trust placed in him, the chairman of the W. S. C. Movie Committee violated the Sherman Anti-Trust law and inveigled the entire committee into shady actions which have utterly ruined their entire lives.

During a visit at the committee to Spokane for the purpose of considering new pictures, Al Roberts, with the assistance of Charles Carpenter and Prof. Maynard lured the party into the Davenport for dinner. During the meal the Davenport broke and they had to go to the Fickle Fork to finish the meal. When the meal was nearly all wrapped up, Agnes Scott shouted "Fire!" and while the excitement prevailed, she stole the paper off the table next to her, that had been occupied by Babe Ruth. When Babe came back and found his paper gone he burst into tears. The waiter gave him a piece of gum and when he was again composed he demanded the arrest of the entire committee. The officer appeared and the whole group saluted, while Roberts, Carpenter and Maynard claimed that they were in no way connected with the party, and were left free; the rest of them being taken to jail.

On the way to jail, Dean Gerlach kicked like ——, but to no avail. Later Dean Cordell broke down and was taken to the Spokane Garage for repairs.

About ten-thirty that night Merle Junk escaped from the Boobyhatch; and thinking himself the only "member-at-large," decided to carry on the work of the committee. After cautiously looking up and down the street, he snapped a gravy tie-pin from his tie and purchased a ticket to "The Age of Eve." On leaving the theater he met Roberts, Carpenter and Maynard, also coming out of the theater, and threatened to tell on them.

"How could you do it," he asked. "Why did you?"

Then Roberts boldly replied, "My mother was a lady barber; my father was a Congressman. I couldn't help myself."

NEW DORM TO BE ERECTED FOR BOYS

Work will be started as soon as possible on the men's dorm, and it is expected and hoped that it will be finished before the class of '76 arrives.

There will be many modern improvements featured in this new building. The third floor will be given over to a play room, where, on rainy days, the boys can indulge in games of hop-scotch and drop-the-handkerchief. The roof will be just above this floor.

The second floor will contain a study room with accommodations for two hundred and seventeen students and four Ags. This floor will also contain a gymnasium, showers, music room, social hall and a house-mother.

On the first floor will be the dining room. Hollow pillars of glass containing gold fish and water will be one of the features of this room. The other feature will be the doors and windows, which can be opened and closed at will.

In the basement will be a furnace. Spare room in the basement will be used as a hospital for sick sheep, hogs and cattle.

COUGAR'S PAW "SIMPLY SCANDALOUS"

Women Condemn Campus Paper.

The second Cougar's Paw brought down the wrath of heaven and some of the old maids upon the heads of the unrespectable staff. The staff was said to be worse than Whiz Bang.

Of course, the staff had never heard of Whiz Bang, so that meant nothing to them and they went right on publishing the magazine. But, nevertheless, they felt terribly ashamed of themselves. They were humiliated. They sent to Reno for new material and got it. But it was the wrong kind. So they got some Y. M. C. A. papers and used their jokes. And again the skies fell. One of the delicately-strung sisters said the "language" was d—— disgraceful.

They were afraid to turn to the good book for language and proper "terms," so, humbled and outcast, to be sure, they went right on publishing the horrid magazine and each time they sold more than the previous time and all the old maids gobbled up the copies so that the appreciative readers might not be corrupted by the awful things.

Alas, such is failure.

Stock Judgers to Get Medals

With the donation of medals to stock judgers, due to the far-sightedness and undying ambitions of Jack Dobbin, the cycle is complete, and every form of field athletics is rewarded with medals. Of course, it is just a matter of time until all forms of activities will be rewarded with a gold emblem and in the near future we may expect to see the Senior Bench or the grandstand the scene of medal-winning activities.

For the present, the Ags are in the lead, and their progress is not to be sneezed at. Why, even, the original "Toreadores" do not receive anything but applause and we will be able to cheer and cheer when our stock judgers of the future say, "it's a Yorkshire," and then highbrow their Mexican brethren. What could be more thrilling than, after a breathless two hours, to hear one of our stock judgers proclaim, "That bull is a gentleman and shows the best of bringing up," whereupon he will receive the coveted medal with the inscription, "BULL."

The Cougar's Paw presented a picture of a girl, wherein the lower limbs were exposed as far as the knee. And so the pictures were discontinued.

Apologies to "Walt"

The college movies were fifteen cents to students and faculty. And a lot of the Ags. fudged on us and got in for fifteen cents.

MAY DAY HUGE SUCCESS

Queen of the May Is Attractive

One of the most memorable days of the year was May Day. It came on the first of May and was quite a surprise to every one. Everything came off fine (where there was anything to spare that could come off).

The Queen of the May was there, too. She had kept the date open and looked fairly gorgeous in her white shoes and stockings. When she appeared a tremendous roar went up from the rooter section and during the entire performance she was well supported.

The pre-medics and girls taking nursing did very well in their bandaging demonstration, and it was rumored later that they all received Ag. medals.

The celebration was interrupted by a snow storm and the gas engineers displayed wonderful dexterity in clearing away the snow. When the ground was again clear the rifle club fired a salute to the May Queen, but she did not take it in the spirit in which it was given, and fired it back. Then they brought out the Cougar and had a cootie hunt. The winner received a brand new kite and a ball of string for a prize.

The afternoon was closed by Mike Moran, who, dressed as Santa Claus, gave every one a candy cane.

—W-S-C—

They walked softly into the grandstand—and watched the game.

—W-S-C—

And twice in a week did a Pi Phi cry, "At last, a man."

—W-S-C—

Clayton Bernhard is a wonderful singer, but Sandberg is better still.

DAME FASHION'S LATEST CREATION

PHI EPSILON SALTS HOUSE RULES

1. All members must take their Saturday nite baths whether they have dates or note.
2. Do not flirt with the furnace boys.
3. Members must not be engaged to more than three men at the same time—unless it is kept secret.
4. Members or pledges should not kiss their escorts goodnight when the porch light is on—turn it off.
5. Excessive swearing will not be tolerated—except when speaking to pledges.
6. Freshmen will be appointed to take turns playing the Victrola and otherwise entertaining the cook on Monday and Wednesday evenings and Sunday afternoons.
7. A few gentle reminders of what not to do while at dinner:
   Don't fan your soup with your hat; also, soup should be seen and not heard.
   Do not try to eat your salad with your fingers—it just simply can't be done.
   Do not try to eat with your knife. It may have a sharp edge.
   Do not leave the spoon in the coffee cup when attempting to drink the coffee, as one's eyesight may be permanently impaired by so doing.
   Do not pick your teeth with your fingers or forks.
   Do not attempt to talk with your mouth full; that is, too full.
8. Study rooms must be kept in a neat condition, books in an orderly array.
9. Always act as a lady should and remember that God loves you; and if your hands are cold sit on them.

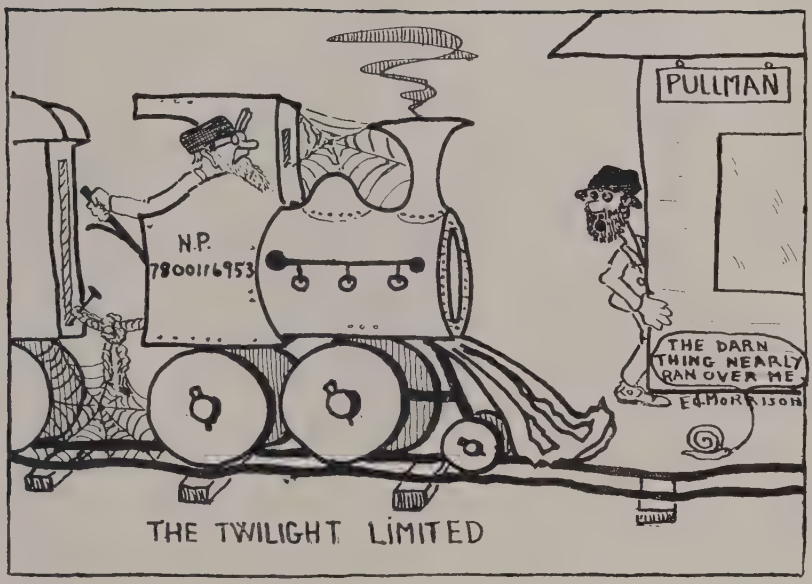
THE BULLETIN BOARD



DON'TS FOR FRESHMAN GIRLS

Don't walk, talk, quarrel or cling to men on the campus. The older women must have their chance.

Don't venture into Tanglewood after sunset. The reasons will become apparent during your Sophomore year.

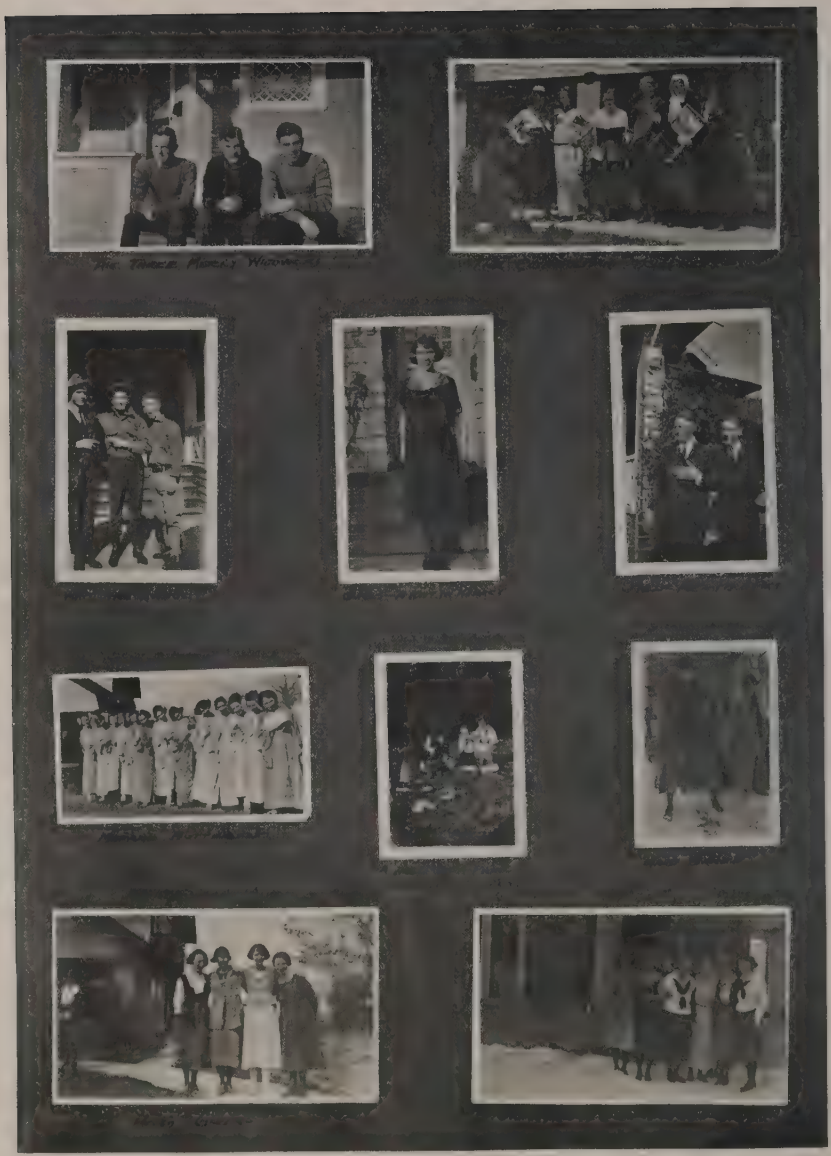
Don't slap, push or strangle any man you may be lucky enough to be walking with. Remember, you are in college now.

Don't wear your gym bloomers to classes. It simply isn't being done.

Don't wear your hair down your back, especially when you have a party dress on. It spoils the effect.

Don't roll your stockings. If you must roll something, get a hoop.

Don't ever have designs on Prexy Holland, he will probably never marry. Anyway, you're just a green little freshman.



Pipe This!

MANUAL OF COLLEGE FRATERNITIES WOMEN

(Apologies to Wm. R. Baird)

ALPHA CHI OMEGA.

Founded at Culver Military Academy in 1776 with the assistance of Curly Skadan, Sigma Nu.

PURPOSE: To establish a musical fraternity altogether—but when Grace Scroggin, Ruth VanEngelen and Marie Christenson were pledged the fraternity was forced to compete with other than strictly professional fraternities.

PUBLICATION: Liar.

BADGE: A Jews harp with the inscription, A. X. O., which, being translated means, "Always Xclaim Our Merits."

—W-S-C—

ALPHA DELTA PI.

This group of Campus politicians was founded in 1565, in the mysterious halls of the suffragette section of the Greek Forum. It is a secret society with a grip and everything.

PUBLICATION: Adell's Fianc'e.

BADGE: Same general shape and size as an S. A. E. pin, but is worn broadside, to prevent confusion and embarassment. On the front of the pin is depicted the two star lovers holding hands.

—W-S-C—

ALPHA GAMMA.

Founded in Community Hall after the adjournment of one of those "gab fests" for which all college women are famous.

PURPOSE: To create some excuse to move out of the hall.

PUBLICATION: All a Secret.

BADGE: A flame enveloping a pin. The significance—a head and a tongue, yet it uttereth not a word.

—W-S-C—

DELTA DELTA DELTA.

Founded in the beautiful pine forests of the Olympics, in the vicinity of Tacoma, on Easter Sunday, by Fred Hamilton, Chas. Brace and others.

PURPOSE: To get the dope on the Lambda Chi's. and incidently to look down on the Theta's.

PUBLICATION: The "Hydrant."

BADGE: A lapfull of stars, (football, basketball, baseball, track, or any kind of stars). The three D's stand for scholarship.

—W-S-C—

DELTA ZETA.

Founded in the basement of Bryan Hall, hence the lamp.

PURPOSE: To compete with the Sigma Chi's in rushing, in fact they rushed the Sigma Chi's out of a house. After things quieted down the Delta Zetas moved in and took possession. Another reason for their founding was that of popularity; this was immediately realized when Love was admitted to membership.

PUBLICATION: The Jack 'o Lantern.

BADGE: The lamp by which we hope to find an honest man.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA.

Founded in San Francisco during the World Fair in nineteen hundred fifteen. They would have organized earlier but were greatly upset by an earthquake.

PURPOSE: For the banding together of "woiking goils" who intended to support college faculties, but later turned their purpose toward building libraries for longshoremen.

PUBLICATION: The Pilgrims Progress.

BADGE: A kike.

—W-S-C—

KAPPA BETA.

Founded in the Practice Cottage one Spring morning just as the little birdies were beginning to throw out their souls in wondrous melodie, and incidently just as the charter members of this organization were getting in from a dance at Lewiston.

PURPOSE: To grab off that scholastic cup, and not pledge any one unless she be an A student, for fear of losing the cup.

PUBLICATION: Etude and Webster's Unabridged Dictionary.

BADGE: A pen wiper.

—W-S-C—

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA.

Founded in the Silver Grill in Spokane on New Year's eve, assisted by the orchestra and Ralph Nash.

PURPOSE: To inculcate unto the underclassmen the necessity of so governing their lives, actions and remarks, that a young man may pass their house as safely as a young lady may pass Thorp's.

PUBLICATION: "Whizz Bang."

BADGE: A key that is supposed to fit any man's heart—but won't.

—W-S-C—

MITRA CLUB.

Founded in the old Alpha Chi House just east of Rogers Field, in the fall of the year '96, by a number of the brightest members of the local Y. W. C. A.

PURPOSE: Cheaper board for a favored few. Also, the location was a valuable asset, in that all athletic events can be witnessed from the front window.

PUBLICATION: Sears and Roebuck Catalogue.

BADGE: A knight in armor warding off bill collectors.

—W-S-C—

OMEGA THETA.

Founded in 1922 by Nathalie Toms, at the State College of Washington, in line with her program of fraternity foundation.

PURPOSE: To obtain a property where the pledges may have the free and unrestricted privilege to dig worms.

PUBLICATION: Snappy Stories.

BADGE: The three graces, Faith, Hope, Charity.

—W-S-C—

PI BETA PHI.

Founded in Greenwich Village in 1917, by a group of actresses who had been wounded in playing opposite William Tell. Hence the arrow. They were originally called the "I see a Sorosis (shoe)." which indicates that during war times they wore long skirts, but the war is over.

PURPOSE: To establish extension departments in the Sigma Nu and Phi Delt Houses, grab as many different kinds of fraternity pins as possible, and win the distinction of being the "Campus Vamps."

PUBLICATION: Nursery Rhymes.

BADGE: Dan Cupids arrow.

—W-S-C—

SIGMA KAPPA.

Founded in 1620 at Plymouth Rock with the rest of the colonizers. Among the most prominent of the colonists were the Johnson sisters' ancestors.

PURPOSE: An auxiliary for the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. There are still three members that haven't acquired Lambda Chi pins as yet.

PUBLICATION: Smile Sweetly and Some One Will Fall.

BADGE: A triangle, the same size and shape as a sandwich, with the letters Sigma Kappa in the background, looking out.

CELEBRITIES AMONG THE MEN.

MOE SAX

Moe Sax was born at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, November 22, 1897. His first act on getting his breath was to yell to his mother thusly:

"Call up Mable, Louise, Carrie, Frances and Lucile and make dates for me at 8 o'clock tonight. Order five dozen roses, five boxes of candy and a taxi for the evening. Have my picture taken and sent to all the Portland papers, together with an account of my arrival. Then tell dad I want a $100." With this he let out a loud cackle and ran three times around the room. This with little variation has been his daily program ever since.

—W-S-C—

BOB DOUGLAS

W. S. C.'s Wallace Reid, and the reason girls come to college. Dances divinely and can make love in seven languages. Intends to devote the remainder of his life to living down his college reputation.

—W-S-C —

FORD DUNTON

Captain Sigma Nu football team. Has gone with every girl in school except three—two of these were married and the other one was in town between trains. Ford is always having trouble with his arms.

—W-S-C—

LEE DUNLAP

The embryo Mark Hanna. Can usually be found imparting political secrets in a mysterious manner to Jimmy Henry. Political adviser to Leslie Tromanhauser. Alternates between the Sigma Kappa house and T. N. E. meetings.

BENO LINDLEY

The boy politician. Comes from Dayton—the home of great men. As there are no more offices to run for he intends to graduate in June and give the school a much-needed rest.

—W-S-C—

JOE GRAY

Man about town. When six years of age his father gently coaxed him to school with a horsewhip. As a youth he was fond of picking blackberries and fights. As he grew older this developed into a talent for picking campus queens.

—W-S-C—

ROY SANDBERG

Lambda Chi gang leader and pride of the Bellingham fire department. Is very versatile and can carve the succulent ham with one hand, juggle the toothsome pie with the other, keep up a constant stream of conversation at the same time and make them all come out right. Has worked his way and the faculty all through school.

—W-S-C—

EARL FOSTER

Earl Foster was born and raised like most children, went to Sunday School and everything. Fussed the women this year for the first time in his College career. Was elected business manager of the "Chinook" by Tommy Reed, who received "boucoup yens" for staying away from school this year. After passing a successful season at baseball last Spring he was given a letter to get rid of him. He was taken into the mysteries of Crimson Circle for the sum of one quart of Gin. Foster will probably be back next year if he is out of jail when school opens.

MACKETT

CELEBRITIES AMONG THE WOMEN.

CLADYS BECK spent several years in Walla Walla—her home being there. At an early age she rode the merry-go-round horses, thus exhibiting her love for sports, which was instrumental in winning her a gold medal and the crimson W. Among her other faults is her membership in Kappa Kappa Gamma.

—W-S-C—

DOROTHY CUNNINGHAM, an Inland Empire product. Has red hair and always wears it. She has many suitors, but none of them seem to suit'er. During her stay at the Pi Phi House, Dorothy has been instrumental in interesting the girls in playing jacks, and has several Jacks of her own. It is rumored that she will be in Walla Walla for three months this summer.

—W-S-C—

NATHALIE TOMS, known as an authority on Anatole France. She is preparing a thesis of seven volumes and appendix on that subject. Her main regret at leaving the old Alma Mater is to see the Talamian Literary Society going to—pieces since she ceased to be President of that organization.

MERLE KELSO'S birthday is unknown, but her other dates are certain enough, being always with Manson Fisher. Many, many years ago, Merle possessed a bashful and retiring disposition, but as has been said, that was many, many years ago.

—W-S-C—

MILDRED LOVE (the name bespeaks the girl), was born in Colfax, Washington, U. S. A., population twelve hundred, including white people. She is prominent on the stage and at Kappa Sig dances.

—W-S-C—

AGNES OTTO comes from Tacoma, a suburb of Puyallup. She confines her athletics to going with Fred Hamilton. She is progressing rapidly with her music (when no one else is in the auditorium), and in applied design—on men.

—W-S-C—

GRACE SCROGGIN was born at home on the evening of April the first, 1894. Spokane claims her as a resident all of her eighteen years of active and strenuous existence. She is popular, as a betting woman, but unpopular as the Alpha Chi board collector.

MANUAL OF COLLEGE FRATERNITIES

MEN

(Apologies to Wm. R. Baird)

ALPHA GAMMA RHO. (Agriculture.)

Founded in 1492, by North American Corn Raising union. Among some of the most prominent charter members were, Capt. John Smith, Balboa, Pocohontas, Chief Throwing the Bull and others.

PURPOSE: We live for grades, let the rest of the men's groups take care of campus activities.

PUBLICATION: "Hey."

BADGE: A hook in an old fashioned weighing scale.

—W-S-C—

ALPHA TAU OMEGA.

Founded at Sing Sing State College on Sept. Morn in the year 1800 by Capt. Kidd, Jesse James, Roy Gardner and Woodrow Wilson.

PURPOSE: To instill real democratic and political ideals in all it's members.

PUBLICATION: The Black Jack.

BADGE: A German cross with the Greek letters A. T. O. O. A. which, being translated, means Alpha Tau Omega Over All, or that there are A. T. O.'s all over.

—W-S-C—

BETA THETA PI.

Founded on Barbary Coast in 1900 by William Jennings Bryan and Billy Sunday.

PURPOSE: to reform the dancing girls in Neptune's Palace.

PUBLICATION: "Gosh Dern."

BADGE: A large affair similar to a full page ad. in the Saturday Evening Post, containing a laurel wreath for scholarship and the three stars of the famous "Hennessy" line.

—W-S-C—

DELTA TAU ALPHA.

Founded in the museum on the third floor of Science Hall, in 1920.

PURPOSE: To make more noise with their orchestra than all the noise the Alpha Gamma Rho's, Sigma Kappa's, Spee's, and Delta Zeta's could possibly hope to. (They have succeeded.)

PUBLICATION: "Flow Gently Sweet Afton."

BADGE: A button hook in a key hole.

—W-S-C—

GAMMA PHI.

Founded in Wilson Hall during the All-Ag fair in nineteen nineteen by a few Ags who wanted to join a "frat."

PURPOSE: To send out better stock judging teams and more of them, to have all the members of Alpha Zeta, and to own a house.

PUBLICATION: Farm Journal.

BADGE: An ear of corn.

—W-S-C—

KAPPA SIGMA.

Founded in Grease after the desertion of the "Great American Sahara," by John Barleycorn and Ponce deLeon.

PURPOSE: To attempt to work out a more scientific and practical method of utilizing corn. Some were in favor of eating it on the ear, others preferred it canned, while the majority voted in favor of expressing the juice of it and drinking the same as in the case of cider.

PUBLICATION: A Street Car Transfer.

BADGE: A daub of powder worn on the left shoulder of the coat.

—W-S-C—

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA.

Founded in the Bellingham Fire department by a bunch of Swedes whose greatest desire was to become Greeks. They didn't realize what they had done until they sobered up, then it was too late, so they had to go on with their Greek organization and they have been stinging every Frosh that came their way who would stand still long enough to put on a pin.

PUBLICATION: The Orange, Pink and Cerise.

BADGE: A half moon at half mast.

PHI DELTA THETA.

Founded at Tia Jauna, Mexico, on Chinese New Year, by the famous Spanish troubadours, whose spirits are still reflected by occasional outbursts of melody in the "we sma' " hours of the morning.

PURPOSE: To give the Campus a treat and to give the public free dancing demonstrations.

PUBLICATION: "Pledges a Means of Income."

BADGE: A plate with a knife and fork neatly crossed.

—W-S-C—

PSI NU SIGMA.

Founded at Mrs. Shumaker's boarding house during the coal shortage in nineteen nineteen.

PURPOSE: To relieve congestion in the Dorm. to grab any man who had a chance to make a letter, or anyone who could make a noise on any kind of an instrument, or just any one that they were sure would pay his board bill.

PUBLICATION: Spokesman-Review Funny Paper.

BADGE: A wash basin (cleanliness is next to Godliness).

—W-S-C—

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON.

Founded in the back room of the City Club by the janitor, in the years when it was necessary to have back rooms in pool halls.

PURPOSE: To high-brow the Kappa Sigs by painting their house.

PUBLICATION: Police Gazette.

BADGE: A diamond shaped pin containing a royal flush, bottled in bond, and a pair of brass knuckles.

—W-S-C—

SIGMA CHI.

Founded in 1849 at Medical Lake by the American White Cross Veterinary Association. Finances were the source of much concern and according to their coat of arms they are still "in Hock."

PURPOSE: To live fuller lives and carry all.

PUBLICATION: Nothing fit for publication—their fraternity magazine is sent by express.

BADGE: The Holy Cross.

—W-S-C—

SIGMA PHI EPSILON.

Founded in Tanglewood by Jimmy Henry, assisted by the rest of the elite of the Campus fussers and wrestlers.

PURPOSE: To control and blot out the spread of Theta Nu Epsilon and see that peace and quiet is maintained in the Library every evening from 7:30 until 7:35 so everyone can prepare his lesson.

PUBLICATION: Sedro Woolley Bugle.

BADGE: Their heart in the shape of a little pin.

—W-S-C—

SIGMA NU.

Founded by a bunch of A. T. O.'s to "Promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes."

PURPOSE: To build a new house, to have all the letter men on the campus, and the reputation for making the most noise in initiating.

PUBLICATION: "A Little Snake Shall Lead Them."

BADGE: Grey W.

—W-S-C—

THETA XI.

Founded in the auto repair shop of the M. E. building during the winter that George Washington spent in Valley Forge.

PURPOSE: To own the Grey Stone Inn and put blinds on the windows, so the public can't know quite as much about the inside as they do about the outside of the house, and incidently, to spear a few engineers to run the furnace and their Ford.

PUBLICATION: The Toonerville Trolley. a Work of Art.

BADGE: A few hoops, rulers, squares, and transits, mixed together and called a pin.

To Our Advertisers

THE following business men and patrons of Washington State College are deserving of very courteous treatment by the Student body. They have aided in a great degree in creating whatever of merit this volume may possess, and such support should be deeply appreciated by the members of the institution. Every student should realize that the business men are ready at all times to support the college in putting forth that spirit of "A better and bigger State College." Let your appreciation of this fact be shown by a return of your patronage.

is an association of men and women employed in newspaper and commercial printing offices for the improvement and stabilization of the working conditions of the trade and its members, by a fair system of collective bargaining.

WORTHWHILE ACTIVITIES OF THE UNION

Old Age Pension---

Members of 20 years' standing, 60 years of age and unable to secure sustaining employment, are paid $8 per week. The fund is backed by a reserve of $1,193,143.

Mortuary Benefits---

On death the Union pays the deceased beneficiaries from $75 to $500, according to length of membership. This fund is backed by a reserve of $1,261,576.

Union Printers' Home---

At Colorado Springs is maintained a home for superannuated members, and sanitarium for sick members, with special attention to the treatment of tuberculosis. Yearly cost $250,000.

Supplemental Education---

A most comprehensive course of instruction by mail is maintained by the Union to supplement actual shop training of journeymen and apprentices. More than 2,000 now enrolled.

The annexed device is used by the Union on printing as a guarantee of workmanship and to indicate that activities of union labor have been supported. Ask for the Union Label—it costs nothing and means much.

A Gateway to Progress

There it stands—a simple forty-foot gateway but unlike any other in the entire world. Through it have come many of the engineering ideas that have made this an electrical America.

The story of electrical development begins in the Research Laboratories. Here the ruling spirit is one of knowledge—truth—rather than immediate practical results. In this manner are established new theories—tools for future use—which sooner or later find ready application.

The great industries that cluster around Niagara Falls, the electrically driven battleships, the trolley cars and electrified railways that carry millions, the lamps that glow in homes and streets, the household conveniences that have relieved women of drudgery, the labor-saving electrical tools of factories, all owe their existence, partly at least, to the co-ordinated efforts of the thousands who daily stream through this gateway.
